Advanced Sessions in Arbitration

"Master the process, lead the outcome."

OVERVIEW

This advanced workshop provides experienced arbitration professionals with deep practical training on complex procedural and strategic aspects of arbitral proceedings. It enhances participants' abilities to handle jurisdictional challenges, procedural tactics, and high-value multi-party disputes across different legal systems. The course strengthens participants' capacity to navigate arbitral institutions, draft enforceable awards, and align their practice with emerging global standards. It is designed to sharpen judgment, reinforce procedural command, and refine advocacy in international and domestic arbitration.

Audience

Tailored for experienced arbitrators, arbitration counsel, legal practitioners, in-house legal teams, judges, and ADR professionals involved in high-level commercial, investment, or institutional arbitration. It is especially valuable for those working in international business law, cross-border contracting, or public-private disputes.

Instructors

Led by senior arbitration practitioners, members of arbitral tribunals, international law professors, and institutional representatives from major arbitral bodies (such as ICC, ICSID, LCIA, and UNCITRAL). Instructors bring extensive experience in complex arbitration cases and share strategic, procedural, and comparative insights grounded in both theory and global practice.
