OVERVIEW

This workshop equips audit professionals, project managers, and compliance officers with the skills to effectively audit contracts and projects for financial accuracy, contractual compliance, and risk mitigation. It emphasizes planning, execution, and reporting techniques that uncover irregularities, ensure accountability, and promote project transparency. Participants will learn how to identify gaps, prevent abuse, and evaluate performance within complex contractual frameworks—supporting both legal protection and institutional credibility.

Audience

Designed for internal and external auditors, contract managers, project officers, procurement specialists, compliance professionals, financial controllers, and public sector oversight bodies. It is particularly suited for those responsible for monitoring high-value contracts, donor-funded projects, or large-scale procurement operations.

Instructors

Led by senior audit practitioners, forensic accountants, and contract oversight specialists with experience auditing government contracts, international development projects, and corporate procurement systems. Instructors combine audit best practices with hands-on experience in managing audit risk in dynamic project environments.
